CLARIFICATION: We herewith clarify the role of our third party manufacturer ‘Aubren’ as they pertain to Novaerus product manufacture.
By European Directive & Regulations, the manufacturer is responsible for the design, manufacturing, packaging and sale of a product placed on the European market under his/her own name (Novaerus) whether he/she is actually fulfilling those tasks or subcontracting them to a third party manufacturer (Aubren).
For Novaerus products Aubren have been selected by Novaerus for the manufacture of Novaerus Infection Control Units.
European regulation categorizes entities placing products on the market under their name into two main categories: manufacturers (Aubren) and legal claimed manufacturers (Novaerus).
The main difference between the manufacturer (Aubren) and the legal claimed manufacturer (Novaerus) is the process by which they obtain their products – one is actually manufacturing the product (Aubren, the manufacturer under instruction from Novaerus) while the other obtains the manufactured product and brands it (Novaerus, the Legal Claimed Manufacturer).
