SELECTION AND AWARD CRITERIA

16. Selection criteria

Capacity providing entities

An economic operator (i.e. a candidate or tenderer) may, where appropriate and for a given contract, rely on the capacities of other entities, regardless of the legal nature of the links it has with them. Where the economic operator relies on other entities, it must, in this case, prove to the contracting authority that it will have the resources necessary for the performance of the contract, by presenting an undertaking from those entities to make those resources available to it. Such entities, for example the parent company of the economic operator, must comply with the same eligibility rules and, in particular, nationality rules as the economic operator relying on them and must comply with the selection criteria for which the economic operator relies on them. In addition, the data relating to this third entity for the relevant selection criterion should be included in a separate document . Proof of capacity will also have to be provided at the request of the contracting authority.

As regards technical and professional criteria, an economic operator may rely on the capacities of other entities only if the latter will perform the tasks for which those capacities are required.

As regards the economic and financial criteria, the entities on whose capacity the economic operator relies become jointly and severally liable for the performance of the contract.

The following selection criteria will be applied to tenderers. In the case of tenders submitted by a consortium, these selection criteria apply to the consortium as a whole, unless otherwise specified. The selection criteria will not apply to natural persons and single-member companies when they are subcontractors.

1) The economic and financial capacity of the tenderer ( based on point 3 of the tender form).
If the tenderer is a public institution, equivalent information must be provided. The reference period to be taken into account will be the last three financial years for which the accounts have been closed.

The selection criteria for each bidder are as follows:

- a) The bidder's average annual turnover in the last 3 years must be equal to or exceed the maximum annualized budget of the contract;
- b) The solvency ratio (current assets/current liabilities) for the last year for which the accounts were closed must be at least 1. In the case of a consortium, this criterion must be met by each member.

2) Technical and professional capacity of the bidder ( based on points 4, 5 and 6 of the bid form).

The reference period to be taken into account will be the last 3 (three) years prior to the deadline for submitting applications.

The selection criteria for each bidder are as follows:

- a) the declaration regarding similar experience from the last 3 years, original – confirmed by the donor's electronic signature.
- b) holds a professional certificate corresponding to this contract, such as the professional certification certificate for employees in the field of automotive construction or automotive repair and maintenance, the activity license or operating authorization in the field in which the contract is of the nature or which is tangential to the nature of the contract;
- a) the bidder has had at least one similar contract for the delivery of technical transport units, in the last 3 years, and with a total budget of at least 80% of the value of the future contract.

This means that, during the period indicated, the contract to which the tenderer refers could have started at any time, but does not necessarily have to be completed during this period, nor implemented throughout the entire period. Tenderers may refer either to projects completed during the reference period (although they started earlier) or to projects that have not yet been completed. In the first case, the project will be taken into account in its entirety if adequate evidence of execution is provided (declarations or certificates from the contracting authority, final acceptance). In the case of projects still in progress, only the part satisfactorily completed during the reference period will be taken into account, this part will have to be supported by supporting documents (similar to completed projects) detailing its value.

Ethnicities that provide capabilities

An economic operator may, where appropriate and for a given contract, rely on the capacities of other entities, regardless of the legal nature of the links it has with them. Some examples of situations in which the contracting authority cannot be considered adequate are where the tender relies to a large extent on the capacities of other entities or where it relies on key criteria. Where the tender relies on other entities, it must demonstrate to the contracting authority that it will have at its disposal the resources necessary for the performance of the contract, for example by providing a commitment from those entities to make these resources available. Such entities, for example the parent company of the economic operator, must comply with the same eligibility rules, in particular nationality, as the economic operator. In addition, the data relating to this third entity for the relevant selection criterion should be included in the tender in a separate document. Proof of capacity will also have to be provided at the request of the contracting authority.

As regards technical and professional criteria, a tenderer may rely on the capacities of other entities only if the latter will perform the tasks for which these capacities are required.

As regards the economic and financial criteria, the entities on whose quality the tenderer relies become jointly and severally liable for the performance of the contract.

Previous experience that would have led to a breach of contract and its termination by a contracting authority will not be used as a reference. This also applies to the previous experience of experts requested under a fee-based service contract.
