ABOUT ME

My professional career began in 2013 at the company "Sun Communications" (currently purchased by Orange) as a programming engineer. The main responsibilities were the administration of mail, hosting and billing servers. I also deal with the development of web applications within the company. In 2017 I passed the activity within the company Agropiese TGR as a senior web programmer. The main responsibilities held within the company are the development of online stores for the sale of the company's products. Likewise, multiple systems and applications for internal management of the company's resources have been developed, such as intranets for contracts / offers / transport. Another application that was developed by me is CRM. Customer relationship such as sales and offers made for customers, contracts.
