

Letter of recommendation

In my quality of Public Relations Specialist I strongly recommend Berlizzo Group as an event management company. We had the occasion to work with the company's team on the organization of festivities related to the Kaufland Richtfest. The company had the tasking of dealing with absolutely all matters related to the event organization, strating from concept and layouts, down to decorations and delivery of technical equipment and furniture for the event. I must say it is not an easy thing to do, since we are talking about organizing a complex event on a construction site in less than three weeks. Berlizzo surprised me with their project mangement capacity, creativity, willingness to work hard and do everything in their power to make the event the way it was planned to be.

The team is made of young professionals, with an exquisite ability to provide creative and original solutions to the tasks that were set. They are well organized, with very well defined internal processes that makes working with them easy and comfortable.

The positive feedback we received from all stakeholders and participants after the event, as well as my personal positive experience in working with them, allows me to recommend Anodilia SRL to other companies interested in such services.
