Subject : CE Declaration of Conformity

Dear Madam, / Sir

You required CE Declarations of Conformity for our products.

In reply you will please find enclosed our general CE Declaration of Conformity concerning the whole of our products submitted to the Directives.

This declaration guarantees you for the Conformity of the whole of our products for Directives of which they depend on.

It is not provided for national authorities in charge of market surveillance, that are the only ones authorized to require the specific declarations.

Of course, in case that Authorities inspectors would ask you one or several declarations for some of our references, we undertake to provide them to the authorities through your firm within a 5 working days delay.

We remind you that you can always have knowledge and information about Conformity and Certification of our products, in real time, connecting yourselves on our Website "Legrand.com" column "E-catalogue".

We think that in that way you will be guaranteed toward European legislation without having to deal with an important volume of documents.

We take the opportunity of this letter to draw your attention again on the complementary guarantees that brings you the National Conformity Marks of which most of our products are beneficiaries.

Effectively, these Marks goes over the essential requirements of Safety : it guarantees you the product performances, it makes sure that a control by third-party has been made when product was created and periodically during production.

At last, please note that in addition of CE Marking and Conformity Marks, LEGRAND products take into account supplementary requirements according to ways of use and go also over liability requirements and, installation and ergonomics easiness.

The company's quality management system is conform to the standard's requirements and enjoys certification according to ISO 9001 : 2000.

We remain at your disposal for any information you would need.

With our best regards.

Marking, Marks, Certificates, Declarations : What you need to know

CE Marking :

The CE marking appears on Legrand's electrical and/or electronic devices or on their packaging. It is made mandatory by Directives of the European Parliament and of the Council of the European Union*.

On no account may the CE marking replace a conformity mark. In the European Union, it allows customs officials and regulatory bodies to authorize the free circulation of any product marked CE.

The manufacturer shall affix the CE marking on his products or their packaging under his sole responsibility.

His manufacture is not submitted to any conformity check by an outside body (compliance with national and international standards of safety and performance).

Conformity marks (NF, VDE, CEBC, IMQ, ...):

They guarantee that the products concerned comply with national standards. This conformity is guaranteed by the Certification Bodies.

Before their market release, the products are tested by an approved Laboratory, and the conformity of production is ensured by periodic factory testing. The standards are designed to guarantee both the products' safety and their performance.

The installers and builders are represented by their professional organizations in the national and international (IEC) standards drafting committees.

Legrand Declaration of Conformity :

This is Legrand's commitment to certain specific requirements which are not covered by a Conformity mark.

This commitment is formalized by a Declaration of Conformity.
