DECLARATION ON THE AVAILABILITY OF SPARE PARTS

Qingdao Hisense Medical Co., Ltd., as the manufacturer of Hisense ultrasound systems, hereby confirms that original spare parts and long-term technical support are available for the medical equipment offered within the framework of the public procurement procedure.

The manufacturer confirms the following:

1. Availability of Spare Parts

Original spare parts for the offered medical equipment will remain available for a minimum period of seven (7) years from the date of commissioning of the last unit delivered under the contract.

2. Availability in Case of Product Discontinuation

In the event that the respective model is discontinued, Qingdao Hisense Medical Co., Ltd. will continue to ensure the availability of original spare parts or manufacturer-certified equivalent spare parts for the period specified above.

3. Scope of Covered Spare Parts

This commitment covers both critical spare parts required for the operation of the equipment and normal wear-and-tear parts recommended for the proper use and maintenance of the system.

4. Notification of Production Discontinuation

In the event of discontinuation of a model or unavailability of certain spare parts, Qingdao Hisense Medical Co., Ltd. undertakes to notify the authorized distributor in writing at least twelve (12) months prior to the estimated date of discontinuation or unavailability.

5. Delivery Terms

The manufacturer will make all reasonable efforts to ensure the availability and supply of spare parts through its authorized distribution network so that such parts can be delivered to the end user within the contractual timeframes.

6. List of Critical Spare Parts

Upon request of the contracting authority or the authorized distributor, the manufacturer will provide available information regarding critical spare parts, including product codes and other relevant information necessary for their identification and ordering.

This letter is issued at the request of the authorized distributor and may be used within public procurement procedures and the related documentation.

Sincerely,

For and on behalf of
Qingdao Hisense Medical Co., Ltd.
