

Nasco/Simulaids

Certificate of Conformity, Product Quality, and Product Origin

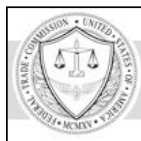

Nasco/Simulaids is a worldwide leader in the manufacture of medical training simulators with a 74-year history of producing the finest quality products. Our training simulators are sold to the world's leading universities, teaching hospitals, and emergency response organizations in 181 countries on six continents. Nasco and Simulaids, sister companies under the parent corporate name of Aristotle Corporation, manufactures all products to the highest quality ISO and other international standards. Every Nasco and Simulaids product is tested and inspected before leaving the plant. A rigorous quality-checking program is conducted daily to ensure you receive the highest quality products. Only the highest quality premium ISO certified raw materials are used in the production of our products. All products sold by Nasco/Simulaids are new, first production products. Nasco/Simulaids does not sell used products. Our Life/form and Simulaids brand products are 100% manufactured at our plants in Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, USA and Saugerties, New York, USA. All electrical components comply with all U.S., CE Mark, and other international safety standards where required. Our products are non-toxic and contain no hazardous materials. Nasco/Simulaids training products are used for medical training only and are not used on humans or animals as medical devices and are not ingested by humans or animals. Nasco is the only company in the industry offering a full 5-year warranty on all Life/form brand products. Simulaids products carry a full 3-year warranty, the second longest warranty in the industry (except Rescue Randy and Smart Stat manikins that have a one-year warranty.)
