Reason for inquiry: Self-interest / Self-information / financial situation

Dear Sir or Madam,

This credit report is made to the best of our knowledge. It is exclusively based on information available to the credit inquiry office. Unless we receive a further request for information, we do not report changes which occur after the credit report has been made even if in exceptional cases such supplementary information has been provided before without having been especially requested.

The information below may be used only subject to the following terms and conditions:

Our credit reports are provided in strict confidence. We expressly draw your attention to the fact that any information received may only be used for the stated purpose and may not be passed on to third parties. Such prohibition does not apply to a credit institution inquiring on behalf of a customer. In this case the recipient must be informed that he may use the received information for the stated purpose only and that he may not pass it on to third parties. The inquiring credit institution shall be liable for any misuse. Your customer may not receive any information which might enable him to identify the credit inquiry office.
