PREVENTION AND INVESTIGATION OF TORTURE IN THE REPUBLIC OF MOLDOVA AND THE RIGHT TO REHABILITATION OF VICTIMS OF TORTURE

40th Session (January – February, 2022) of the UPR Working Group of the United Nations Human Rights Council
3rd cycle of Universal Periodic Review

EMERGING ISSUES

Lack of prompt, impartial and effective investigation of torture allegations

Most acts of torture and ill-treatment are not investigated or prosecuted and go unpunished, contrary to Article 166/1 of the Criminal Code which incriminates torture in accordance with art. 1 of the UN Convention against Torture. The problem of impunity and lack of accountability of law enforcement and other public officials is caused by multiple factors and persistent systemic deficiencies, including:

of effective and independent investigation mechanisms; lack of appropriate and impartial prosecution and trial proceedings; insufficient legal safeguards to protect victims and witnesses; and limited access to independent forensic documentation of physical and psychological trauma.

According to the official data of the Prosecutor's Office for 2020, the criminal investigation was initiated only in 47 cases (8,3%) out of 563 complaints of torture and ill-treatment registered.

Even though, in approx 91% of cases, the criminal investigation was not initiated, there was no qualitative analysis of the complaints and circumstances that led to the registration of these complaints. Moreover, only 22 cases, which represent less than 4% of the total number of complaints, were submitted to the courts.

These data reveal the level of inadequacy of the investigation of torture and ill-treatment by state authorities.

SUGGESTED RECOMMENDATIONS

1 The Prosecutor General shall ensure that complaints regarding acts of torture and ill-treatment that are not prima facie unfounded receive a prompt, impartial, and effective investigation in accordance with the Istanbul Protocol - the UN Manual on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment;

2 In order to end all forms of torture in Moldova, all relevant professionals must be trained on the definitions of torture and what practices are prohibited under national and international legislation;

3 The Parliament and the Government, to ensure genuine implementation of all international recommendations and commitments undertaken to prevent torture, inhuman or degrading treatment, including the UN CAT recommendations (2018) and the UPR recommendations made in the previous cycle (2016).

LACK OF NATIONAL MONITORING MECHANISMS

The Council for preventing and eliminating discrimination and ensuring equality is the only institution which provides constantly disaggregated data.

The database of the Ministry of Internal Affairs does not allow the marking of incidents regarding crimes motivated by prejudice or contraventions regarding cases related to hate speech. In the case of the Prosecutor's Office and the courts, the data are limited by the provisions of national legislation (aggravating circumstance and protected criteria), and the data can only be extracted manually.

The Audiovisual Council monitors hate speech only in cases of self-notification or notification, and the lack of the monitoring mechanism leads to the lack of disaggregated data.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The General Inspectorate of Police and the General Prosecutor's Office of the Republic of Moldova shall:

Develop internal mechanisms for monitoring and collecting disaggregated data on prejudice-motivated crimes and hate speech.

The Audiovisual Council shall:

Develop an internal mechanism for monitoring hate speech and collecting disaggregated data on hate speech in the audiovisual media.

SUGGESTED QUESTIONS

1 What measures has the State undertaken to improve data collection systems on prejudice-motivated crimes and hate speech?

2 How the State has used the existing data to prevent the prejudice-motivated acts and hate speech?

Cases of hate speech vs. cases of hate speech based on the sex / gender criterion (2018-2019)

HATE SPEECH AND SEXIST SPEECH AGAINST WOMEN

Gender stereotypes about women are used to denigrate or ridicule the opponent parties, be they women or men, and to diminish women's political, decision-making and leadership skills.

The representatives of the religious cults and politicians who promote a conservative agenda use hate speech based on a religious rhetoric. Moreover, religious and conservative leaders increasingly label gender equality and feminism as a "danger" to women's traditional role in the family and society.

In 2016, the Constitutional Court (CC) of the Republic of Moldova found that State authorities failed to prevent and sanction the involvement of religious cults in the electoral process (presidential elections). In 2020, CC formulated a new Address to the Parliament by which it requested regulation of control and sanctioning mechanisms to prevent and combat hate speech among electoral contestants, including online.

THE COMPULSORY DRUG DEPENDENCE TREATMENT APPLIED BY THE COURTS

DESCRIPTION OF THE ISSUE

Until now, in the Republic of Moldova, the courts have ordered the application of forced treatment to drug and alcohol addicts. However, international organizations underline the principle that drug dependence treatment should generally be voluntary. Given that compulsory medical treatment, including for drug dependence, inherently involves infringements of these rights, it is only potentially justifiable in exceptional, clearly defined circumstances (e.g. in order to prevent a person from causing or risking imminent, serious harm to himself/herself or to others) and in compliance with the UN's Siracusa Principles on the Limitation and Derogation of Provisions in the International Covenant on Civil and

According to the Art.103 of the Criminal Code, forced treatment may be applied to drug users who have committed crimes and only simultaneously with the punishment.

According to the data provided, starting with 2018, the number of new cases for which the courts have ordered forced treatment is increasing. In 2018, only two cases of forced treatment were registered, while in 2019 - 34 cases of forced treatment were registered in the medical service of the National Administration of Penitentiaries.

According to the provisions of Art. 90 of the Criminal Code, a detainee subjected to forced treatment cannot benefit from parole.

SUGGESTED RECOMMENDATIONS

Amend laws and regulations to exclude compulsory treatment (in civil or prison system) and support access to voluntary, community-based drug treatment. It does not force individuals into treatment without their consent.
