Regensburg, 09. September 2021

After the introduction of a new blue uniform for the Bavarian Police, the Ministry of Interior decided to also update the old paper-based ID. Mühlbauer entered the competition and showed its speed, high quality and flexibility, especially during the challenging proof of concept phase. Subsequently, Mühlbauer was selected as the successful bidder. The project includes the production of three different cards, representing the different employees of the Bavarian Police. Mühlbauer developed different card design proposals based upon the Corporate Identity of the Bavarian Police as well as the desires discussed during the project Kick-Off meeting. The Minister of Interior settled for a design that captures the pride of the Bavarian people and its police force. In total, the project includes 100.000 eID cards with a 3-tiered high-security concept, comparable with national ID cards. The data is provided by the central database of the Bavarian Police and enhanced by the Personalization Management System, MB INCAPE. This includes the derivation of the electronic chip data as well as enhancement of the holders' picture through the Artificial-Intelligence based software MB Image Enhancement. The personalization data-sets are distributed to the two decentral personalization sites, which are equipped with state-of-the-art Mühlbauer CLP 60 laser personalization machines. For the electronic personalization, the machines access the Key Management Solution and the hardware Security Modules provided by Mühlbauer for this project.
