

If setting parameter exceeds the available range, it will not be effective, and prompt message in red will show up