HAITECH HISTORY page4

Established in 2000, Shaoxing Haitech Medical Products Co., Ltd. specializes in the research, development, manufacturing and distribution of medical devices. Located in Shaoxing City, in coastal Zhejiang Province, we are one of the few high-tech companies that receive government funds at both municipal and provincial levels.

Our company consists of three branch companies, namely Shaoxing Haisheng International Trading Co., Ltd. and Shaoxing New Delux Medical Electric Co., Ltd., . With total assets of over USD6,000,000, we employ more than 200 staff members; 58% of whom are graduates of colleges or universities.

We place great emphasis on technological improvement. Having introduced advanced technology by cooperating with prestigious universities and research institutes, our main partners include Zhejiang University and a Canadian company. Our high quality products and reasonable prices are greatly appreciated by customers. With offices in over 20 provinces, our sales network has spread throughout China.

We are confident that by working together with customers, we will become one of the leading medical device suppliers in China. If you are interested in our products or company, please feel free to contact us. We sincerely welcome correspondences from our customers.
